

Intershield first

The first Lloyd's Register IMO PSPC (Performance Standard for Protective Coatings) type approval certificate has been awarded to International Paint Ltd's Intershield 300. "We have always supported the introduction of a standard that would help increase the service life of coatings for seawater ballast tanks and directly contribute to improved safety of life at sea," said Mike Hindmarsh, worldwide marine business development manager, International Paint.